

Series of Private Money Talks With Britain Indicated

Officials Move Investigative Actions in London and Paris to Determine Their Own Course—Stock Prices Go Upward With Devaluation More.

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP).—A series of private money talks with Great Britain were indicated authoritatively today to be either underway or about to begin. Officials here investigated actions in London and Paris to determine their own course.

In the intricate web of European governmental high finance authorities saw possibilities that might determine the future of President Roosevelt's dollar program. Reaction abroad yesterday to the 49.36 percent devaluation and the new high for gold were not considered highly satisfactory here.

High sources conceded the Roosevelt gold policy could be hampered by a French embargo on gold which would eliminate this heavy source of the world market supply and simultaneously act against the effect of America's fixed $25 an ounce price.

Officials watched particularly for movements that might affect the gold standard position of France, such as continued heavy drains of gold from Paris to London.

Although some here predicted a heavy flow of gold into the United States because of the profit inherent in foreign gold prices considerably below this country's $35, the belief was nevertheless current in authoritative quarters that if France should go off the gold standard it would be because of British rather than American activity.

Coupled with this opinion, however, was the view that it would be to London's benefit to have France on gold, that to keep the pound around $5 it is necessary for London to draw on Paris for gold.

Another alternative viewed possible here would be for Great Britain to wield her huge equalization fund in the dollar market.

Such action might mean a currency war between Washington and London which Secretary Morgenthau asserted would be "costly to both" countries. Officials nevertheless predicted early use of this nation's $200,000,000 fund.

The middle and best ground, as some officials here gauged it, was an understanding on currencies. Discussions with London were viewed as the start of the move.

Domestically, the administration was watching for commodity price response to the 50.06 percent dollar and what Morgenthau called a "1934 model gold bullion standard." Treasury experts confidently expected the rise to come—provided there are no unsettling European moves—but said there was always a lag behind a rising gold price.

Although the devaluation move bounced stock market prices upward yesterday, commodity prices did little or nothing. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that wholesale commodity prices moved upward slightly during the week ended January 27. An index prepared for the Associated Press yesterday showed if anything a narrow decline.

Central Hudson Shows Soundness

Annual Report To Stockholders Shows Company In Strong Financial Position—Sound Credit Position Maintained.

The annual report of stockholders for 1933 shows that in spite of material reductions in revenues due to industrial and business conditions generally and to material rate reduction, the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation has been able to reduce its operating expenses sufficiently to maintain the fundamental soundness of its operations. The company is in a strong financial position, with no bank loans and more than sufficient cash resources to meet current indebtedness. During the year reasonable additions have been made to reserves and a surplus amount has been added to a fund to allow the maintenance of a sound credit position. This is a matter of vital economic importance to the communities which the firm serves.

The commercial policies of the company have enabled appliance dealers, electrical contractors, plumbers and department stores to finance the sale of gas and electrical appliances at reasonable terms through the financing plan; and the fact that it does not handle the direct sale of any of this merchandise spreads the beneficial results of such business over a large group of merchants in the Central Hudson region. The low rates which have been established for gas and electric customers making reasonable use of the service will further stimulate the sale of these appliances and the use of Central Hudson service.

Desmond Highway Bill. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP).—Investigations by the state highway department to determine the feasibility of constructing by-passes and cutting off highways around congested cities and villages are proposed in a bill introduced in the Legislature today by Senator Thomas C. $14,957.52 For Ulster County From State Liquor Revenues

Over Two Million Dollars In Beer Tax and Liquor License Revenue For Quarterly Period Ending December 31 Will Be Distributed To Cities and Towns of State, With Exception of Three Which Voted Dry—Amount Each County Receives.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP).—Cities and towns of New York state, excluding three which voted dry in local option elections last November, will receive more than two million dollars in beer tax and liquor license revenue for the quarterly period ending December 31. State Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine announced today.

The total of $2,348,418.21 is one-half of the state collections for the period.

The three dry towns not able to benefit by the revenue are Minerva, Chautauque county; Troupsburg, Steuben county; and Debron, Washington county.

Eight other towns which voted dry last November will participate in the past quarter's collections because in each of them there are one or more licenses still in force.

These towns, which will cease to participate in the tax distribution as soon as present licenses expire or are revoked, are, Clarysville, Chautauque county; Hannibal and Orwell, Oswego county; Otsego and Oneonta, Otsego county; Newark Valley, Tioga county; Argyle, Washington county; and Rose, Wayne county.

Greater New York city receives $1,293,272.55 of the amount. Erie county communities receive the second largest amount, $141,270.98, while Westchester county benefits by $97,212.57.

Comptroller Tremaine, in making the distribution, lumped into one check the amount the cities and towns in each county are entitled to receive. The county treasurers make the final distribution on a per capita basis.

Many Hear Buzzing Of Presidential Bee

Representative Snell Takes Stand For Former President Hoover—Ogden Mills Had His Say Early in the Week.

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP).—Democratic chieftains today mulled over a new Republican move in the national political forum—a speech by Representative Snell of New York asserting a continuance of Herbert Hoover's regime would have been more beneficial than has the Roosevelt administration.

Some observers declared they heard a buzzing of the presidential bee when two leading Republicans within four days delivered essentially political speeches.

Ogden Mills, Hoover administration treasury secretary and a chief political lieutenant in the 1932 campaign, told a Topeka, Kan., crowd early in the week of his disagreement with many of President Roosevelt's moves.

Snell, taking the floor yesterday as minority leader of the House, said he was "absolutely sure" Mr. Hoover would have done a better job than has Mr. Roosevelt. He asserted the former president "never received a particle of cooperation from the Democrats except for the RFC."

"I intended from the beginning not to support Mr. Hoover's legislation," Snell said, "for fear he would benefit from it, and they didn't want him elected. Now the best part of your program is taken from the program of Herbert Hoover two years ago."

Political speculation has mentioned both Mills and Snell as well as Representative Wadsworth (R-N.Y.) as Senators Reed (R-Pa.) and McNary (R-Ore.) as possible candidates for the presidential nomination in 1936. But shrewd observers discount any major effort toward this end this early since Snell, Wadsworth and Reed all have re-election campaigns next fall for a first consideration.

Cases Disposed Of Today in City Court

Helen Kuzal, 18, formerly of Kingston, but who told the police she now lived in Highland, was sentenced to St. Ann's Home of the Good Shepherd at Albany until discharged by law when she was arraigned before Judge Culliton in police court this morning. The young girl had pleaded guilty to petit larceny in entering the room of another girl in the home where they roomed and helping herself to dresses and jewelry.

Thursday Sergeant Simpson and Officer Reiter went to Poughkeepsie where the jewelry was recovered from a pawn shop where the girl had pawned them. The girl accompanied them on the trip.

Following a collision between a truck driven by Harry Goral of Brook street and an auto of Meyer Kaplan of Washington avenue, Mr. Kaplan arrested Mr. Goral on a charge of reckless driving. Both machines were somewhat damaged. This morning in police court the hearing was adjourned to Monday.

Sankey to Face Court For Denver Kidnaping

"America's Public Enemy No. 1" Has Escaped Temporarily Charge of Abducting Lindbergh Baby, But Will Stand Trial in Boettcher Case.

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP).—Yerme Sankey, described as "America's public enemy No. 1" has escaped temporarily at least a charge of participation in the kidnaping of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, but must face a federal court trial for the abduction of the wealthy Denver broker, Charles Boettcher II.

Hours of questioning by federal agents of the stocky little former South Dakota ranchman, apparently failed to link him with the fatal Lindbergh abduction, and he was hurriedly started by train last night for Pierre, S. D., where he is under indictment for the Boettcher "snatch."

Sankey, who the authorities said deserted the drab life of a ranchman to take the more lucrative racket of a "big time" kidnaping, apparently had no objection to going to South Dakota, for he waived extradition, and was quickly on his way, carefully guarded by five department of justice agents, led by Melvin Purvis, chief of the department's Chicago office.

A private car for the notorious bad man and his guards, was used. Sankey, who confessed, Purvis said, to the $60,000 Boettcher kidnaping as well as the $12,000 abduction of Haskell Bohn of St. Paul, faced the prospect of receiving a life term, if he is convicted, and there were indications that the authorities were hopeful that he would be.

Meanwhile Sankey's woman companion, who identified herself as Helen Matern, 28, arrested last Wednesday when Sankey was captured in a barber shop, remained in custody for further questioning.

3 Insane Convicts At Large in Missouri

Four Sowed Way Out of Medical Center in Springfield Yesterday, But One Was Apprehended—Homes Guarded in Ozarks.

Springfield, Mo., Feb. 2 (AP).—Three of four insane convicts who escaped from the United States Department of Justice Medical Center here, were still at large today.

City homes and cabins and farm houses in the Ozarks country were barred against possible entrance of the three, one a life term.

George John Standish, one of the quartet which used a backswab blade and a rollerball to gain freedom, was re-arrested by a hospital guard soon after last night's break. Standish was serving 15 years for grand larceny from Washington, D. C. He was 32. Others who fled were:

Norris Board, 41, serving life term for murder, former World War soldier, sentenced December 2, 1913, by an army court martial.

Albert Devan, 34, serving two years for counterfeiting.

Joseph G. Watts, 25, serving 10 years for escape and robbery from Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

The four sowed through bolts which held one side of the iron grill on a window and slid to the ground on the net.

Army Of Officials, State, County, City, Help Sad Truck Driver

But a Set of Tire Chains Would Have Sent Albert Coyman of Hackensack Merely on His Way—Peevy Show and Motorists Add to Troubles.

A set of the chains would have saved Albert B. Coyman of Hackensack, not to mention an army of deputy sheriffs, state troopers, police officers and county highway employees, a lot of trouble Thursday afternoon.

Albert was driving a huge van owned by the Harper Bros. Trucking Co. of Hackensack and loaded, he said, with south-bound traffic. Even on Route 9-W. He had left the Port Ewen bridge and started up the first hill when the big truck skidded on the snow covered pavement, swung around and was stopped directly across the roadway, not far from the entrance to the road to Connelly. Just room enough was left for one-way traffic around the stalled truck.

Along Comes Clayton. Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg came along at this juncture, having been called to the accident by Dr. Bibby's car further up the road, and took charge of the situation. His first job, after calling up the sheriff's office and putting in a request for a sand truck from the county highway department, was to straighten out traffic on the bridge, which was blocked by some motorist in a hurry having pulled out of line.

Clayton Sees Sand. Clayton noticed a barrel of sand on the bridge and, with the help of a passing motorist and others, got the sand up to where the stalled truck stood and with its aid and the help of further supplies from the county highway department, the big truck was started on its way. However, before it reached the top of the hill it again stalled and blocked the road.

Third Time—In Ditch. Once more it was helped out and this time succeeded in making the hill and getting through Port Ewen village and as far as the hill near the Roscoe Elsworth place. Here it came to grief the third time, backed down off the road, through the ditch on its left and into the brush, with only the front wheels resting on the roadway. The highway department was again called and Superintendent Loughran sent the heavy crane truck.

Clayton Gives Advice. After considerable work the van was once more gotten onto the road and this time the driver, assisted by a little good advice from the deputy, decided to call it a day. The van was parked at Port Ewen and a telephone call sent in for tire chain equipment.

Other Heroes. During the early part of the affair there was great congestion of traffic, and at one time there was a line of cars extending from near the bridge as far back as Port Ewen village. Among officers who answered the call and took charge of the tangle, in addition to Deputy Vredenburg, were Sergeant Cunningham and Troopers Reilly and Senecal. Deputies Best and Coniglio of Port Ewen and Officers Stoudt, Reardon, Burns and Bowers of the police department, who handled traffic on the Kingston side of the bridge.

Dr. Bibby Hurt In Auto Accident

Received Cut on Forehead and Was Dazed Following Collision of His Car and Two Others—Mrs. Bibby Bruised—Jury Road Blamed.

Dr. H. L. Bibby of 212 Fair street received a cut on the forehead and was temporarily dazed, in a collision involving his Oldsmobile sedan and two other cars on 9-W, about two miles below Port Ewen late Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Bibby, who was riding with her husband from New York, was thrown backward over the front seat, but escaped with a bruised elbow. The car was badly damaged.

The doctor says that he was driving slowly when his car must have struck a bit of ice under the snow, on a turn, causing it to skid. At the same time two cars were approaching—a Chevrolet coach, owned and driven by John C. Lee of Harriman and an Essex coach owned by B. F. McLouth of Toledo, Ohio. All three cars were involved in the collision which followed.

McLouth was treated by Dr. Joseph Jacobson for injuries to his right arm and leg. His car was wrecked. Lee received a bruise on the left leg, but his car was badly damaged. All three cars were towed to garages. The Oldsmobile and Essex to the Doc Smith garage and the Chevrolet to the Chevrolet Service Station.

A call was sent to the sheriff's office, following the accident and they notified Sergeant Lockhart, who made an investigation.

Organist Gets Bravery Medal. Montreal, Feb. 2 (AP).—The Countess De Boshert, organist of the woman's choir of the parish of St. Jacques, was the proud possessor of a gold medal and certificate of honor for bravery today. She continued to play the organ while flames spread through the church on March 25, and was credited with preventing a serious panic and possible loss of life.

Creation of State Mortgage Authority Will Be Considered

Senator Desmond Believes It Will Be Able To Restore Value of Great Share of Investment in Troubled Mortgage Guaranty Companies—Will Introduce Bill Monday.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP).—Creation of a state "mortgage authority" which Senator Thomas C. Desmond believes will be able to restore the value of a very great share of investment in troubled mortgage guaranty companies will be considered by the Legislature.

Desmond is drafting a bill which plans to introduce Monday night, relieving Superintendent of Insurance George S. Van Schaick of his supervisory powers over mortgage guaranty companies.

"The situation is too difficult for any one man, regardless of his personal qualifications," Desmond said. Desmond is a Republican from Newburgh.

He added he had been informed Van Schaick himself favors the change.

The "authority" system was copied by New York state from the London Bridge authority in 1921 and has been found useful in dealing with business ventures such as the Port of New York, development of St. Lawrence power and in various other projects. An authority has been proposed to give the state control of the liquor business.

Half of the state's population of 13,000,000 and practically every bank, Desmond declared, has a direct or indirect interest in mortgage guaranty companies.

Criticism of the state insurance department's handling of affairs of certain of these companies led to a Moreland Act investigation. Governor Lehman is now studying the first part of the report of Commissioner George Alger—three thick volumes.

"There has been enormous dissatisfaction with the legislation which required the superintendent of insurance to supervise these companies," Desmond said.

"His job is an almost hopeless one. He must protect the interest of the state, the stockholders and the mortgage holders all at the same time. All three have conflicting interests." He estimated that about $2,000,000,000 in investments is involved. Because these were regarded as high class investments, many trust funds for widows and orphans were so invested.

"The market price has shrunk to 25 and 30 cents on the dollar," Desmond said. "With proper business management by a state authority a very great share could be restored to full value. The situation is not so desperate as the market prices indicate."

"FOUR" OLD WOMAN LEAVES $200,000 IN WILL

London, Feb. 2 (AP).—Emily Smith, solitary old woman who lived in one of the lowliest districts of Paddington on the upper reaches of the Thames river, left a will which revealed today an estate of more than $250,000.

It all started from pennies. She was the daughter of a veteran of the Crimea who was in charge of the famous garden maze at Hampton Court Palace, with the privilege of charging admission.

The charge was a penny, and persons from London and the world over thronged the palace every summer for the thrill of trying to find their way out of half a mile of strange labyrinthian passages formed by hedgegroves planted in the days of Charles I.

The last 19 years the government has taken over the maze—and like-wise the pennies.

GALLON OF GASOLINE NOW COSTS 40 CENTS IN PARIS

Paris, Feb. 2 (AP).—The walking was good in Paris today. It had to be.

The city was practically "taxi-less" as a result of a drivers' strike against a recent 12 1/2 cent hike in the government gasoline tax.

Only a few privately owned cabs were in operation.

A gallon of gasoline now costs 40 cents, of which 21 cents goes for taxes.

Kenneth O'Brien Nominated. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP).—The nomination of Kenneth O'Brien of New York city for supreme court justice of the first judicial district was sent to the Senate for confirmation today by Governor Herbert H. Lehman. O'Brien, who is a son of Morran J. O'Brien, former presiding justice of the Appellate Division, would succeed the late Justice Curtis A. Peters. He is a graduate of Yale and Fordham Law School and has been practicing law for eleven years. He has been endorsed by the New York City Association of the Bar and the New York County Lawyers' Association.

Double Fee for Mayors. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP).—Mayors who are also members of city councils today may draw salaries for their work in both positions following approval by Governor Lehman of a bill introduced by Senator John J. Dunigan, Democratic majority leader from New York, and passed by the Legislature.

The measure was introduced chiefly to help Rochester, which wants to pay Charles Stanton, mayor, $5,000 and $1,500 as a Democratic councilman.

Representative Goodwin Pleads Today For Deeper Rondout Harbor

House Rivers and Harbors Committee Receives Improvement Suggestion for Development of Rondout Harbor to Increase Effectiveness of Waterway in Relation to New Deeper Hudson—Would Cost $15,000 With $2,000 Annual Maintenance Cost.

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP).—The House Rivers and Harbors committee had before it today a plan for the development of Rondout Harbor, N. Y., to handle additional tonnage moving through the deepened Hudson river.

The plea was made by Representative Goodwin (R-N.Y.), a new comer in Congress and lone witness before the committee yesterday at a hearing on the proposed improvement. The new work would cost $15,000 and the annual outlay for maintenance would be $2,000.

Approved by Major General Lytle Brown as chief of army engineers, the project calls for a 100-foot channel, widened at the bends, and 11 feet deep from deep water in the Hudson river to a point one and one-quarter miles above the mouth, thence 12 feet deep to the west end of Island Dock.

Goodwin said the improved harbor would accommodate war vessels of lesser tonnage in addition to commercial craft. He also stressed that as a midway station, Rondout harbor is a strategic point, half way between New York harbor and the port of Albany.

Cites Kingston's Position. Goodwin told the committee that at present the city of Kingston was somewhat shut off from navigation by the fact that the harbor was inclined to shoal and that sediment was filling the channel.

"If the logic behind the deepening of the Hudson was true," he said, "and if it was necessary to dredge the Hudson to accommodate present traffic, then the same logic applies to the deepening and broadening of this harbor."

He offered the view the locality was entitled to the proposed outlay for its development as a port, particularly in view of other expenditures for navigation.

DELANEY SAYS HE HAS PROOF OF STREWEL KIDNAP GUILT

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP).—Assertion that he has evidence that "definitely connects" Manny Strewel with the kidnaping last July of John J. O'Connell, Jr., was included in an affidavit filed with Supreme Court Justice Sydney F. Foster today by District Attorney John T. Delaney of Albany county.

The affidavit was submitted to Justice Foster in connection with the district attorney's opposition to a reduction in Strewel's bail. Strewel, under indictment on a kidnaping charge, has been held for several months in the Albany county jail in default of $25,000 bail, an amount described by the district attorney in his affidavit as "ridiculously low."

The prosecutor declared in the affidavit that he is in possession of opinions from several expert witnesses that Strewel wrote the ransom letters in the O'Connell case and that these witnesses will be called to testify at the trial. "To disclose in detail other evidence which your department possesses would, of course, be inadvisable to public policy," the affidavit set forth.

"It is significant," Delaney declared, "that the defendant (Strewel) is not seeking a trial but is seeking low bail which deponent (Delaney) seriously believes is for the purpose of fleeing jurisdiction and escaping trial."

Two Leading Thefts Today Total $140,000

Pennsboro, N. J., National Bank Messengers Relieved of $130,000—Bandits Enter Massachusetts Bank and Steal $100,000.

Pennsboro, N. J., Feb. 2 (AP).—A band of robbers today held up two messengers of the Pennsboro National Bank and stole $130,000.

The messengers were within a few steps of the bank building at Main and Oak streets when they were forced to the wall of an adjoining building and robbed of the two sacks, containing the money in cash.

The two messengers, Harold Anderson, a teller, and W. H. Waddington, a runner, were on their way to the bank from the post office with the two sacks.

As they neared the bank, the robbers stepped from a car parked nearby, pointed pistols at the messengers, grabbed the sacks, returned to their automobile and sped off.

The money was intended for payrolls for factories in the town.

Officials at the bank and Pennsboro police estimated the amount of loot the robbers took.

Massachusetts Robbery. Needham, Mass., Feb. 2 (AP).—Four men were shot and $100,000 stolen from the Needham Trust Co. today by four bandits, two of them armed with sub-machine guns.

Six more weeks of winter! That, the old story says, is what is in store for us. And all because Mr. Groundhog, sauntering out of his hole to take a look around and to become an unofficial weather bureau for thousands of persons, saw his shadow. Frightened, he scurried back into his home to await balmy days.

Groundhog May See His Shadow in Many Parts of U. S.

Over Much of U. S. Thick White Carpet Was Spread For Annual Appearance of Groundhog—Snow in East, Great Lakes, Ohio Valley, North Pacific Coast.

(By The Associated Press)

Over much of the United States the groundhog had a thick white carpet to walk on today as he went about his annual chore of determining the weather for the next six weeks.

A heavy snowfall yesterday and last night hampered traffic today over much of the east. Snow or rain had fallen in sizeable quantities in the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley, the Atlantic states, the Gulf states and along the North Pacific coast.

New York city mustered an army of workers to remove snow that fell to a depth of ten inches, accompanied by offshore winds of near-gale force. Walking was difficult and driving dangerous. A drop in temperature to around the 10 above mark set New Yorkers' ears a-tingle.

The groundhog's decision depended on what part of the map he chose to pop out of his hole. Over much of the country, the sun shone brightly, casting the fateful shadow six more weeks, so says the legend, of cold means of winter. In some sections, however, it was cloudy and there were no shadows to scare the groundhog back into his hole.

Philadelphia—Mrs. Anthony Marco told the court her husband, who is $400 behind on a $7-a-week support order, refuses to work because his parents support him. Marco listed the places where he said he had sought employment.

"Would you take a job at $10 a day?" inquired Judge Rosen.

"You bet," said Marco.

"Thirty days in the county jail with a remission of $200 of the arrears. In that way you will be earning $10 a day."

Marco chose it to a $25 cash settlement.

New York—If groundhogs at the Bronx Zoo see their shadows today it will not mean a thing says Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, groundhog authority. Steam heat and three meals a day have made hopeless decadents of the zoo rodents, he opines, and because of their lack of outside interest they are no good as weather prognosticators. Many believe that a shadow cast by a groundhog on Candlemas Day means six weeks more of winter weather.

Cheap Enough.

Chicago—The government went into the beer business temporarily, but the price was small—in fact about a cent a bottle for fine old Munich brew.

One hundred and seventy barrels of it, with 72 bottles in each barrel, went under the government's auction hammer because the person to whom it was consigned refused to pay $1,300 duty.

He objected because it only contained 3.2 of alcohol.

Wet Music Not For Drys

New York—Radio listeners in dry communities will be invited to tune out the program of a liquor advertiser. Before the program starts the announcer will say: "Those listening in from dry states may now tune out this station, for the next program is not intended to offer alcoholic beverages for sale or delivery in any state or community where in the advertising, sale or use thereof is unlawful."

Diogenes Idea Reversed

Hamilton, N. Y.—Instead of looking with a lantern for an honest man, Mayor Bill Reid has put the Diogenes idea into reverse and is looking for some dishonest men with lanterns. An mayor he wants returned 19 red lanterns that have been taken from village street construction. But as graduate manager of athletics of Colgate University he has something of a kindred feeling for student souvenir gatherers.

His duty as mayor gained the ascendancy, however, and he sent students out on what he hoped would be the last roundup of the lanterns—no questions asked.

Bloodless Duel

Hollywood—John Barrymore has proved himself something of a diplomat. While he was sailing off Mexico in his yacht Infanta, he telegraphed friends here, he was asked to referee a duel with knives between two members of his crew. The actor agreed, but when the time came he presented the duellists with boxing gloves. And they fought it out along those lines.

FORMER MARLBOROUGH MAN NAMED TO EXECUTIVE POST

Marlborough, Feb. 2.—George McElrath, former Marlborough resident, has received an appointment as chief engineer of Canada and the United States for the National Broadcasting Co. Mr. McElrath is the son of Mrs. Augusta McElrath of the village and has many friends in this town. He has been associated with radio almost since the beginning and was one of the very first expert technicians.

SOUTH ROUNDOUT.

South Rondout, Feb. 2.—The Young Ladies' Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Treadwell Wilson of Connelly Heights for a business meeting on Tuesday evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church met at the home of Mrs. Wesley E. Gebhard at the parsonage Wednesday evening.

The Rev. Wesley E. Gebhard was extended an invitation to remain on this charge for the next conference year.

The Misses Helen and June Maurer spent the week-end with Mrs. Walter Fallon of Kingston.

Violet Burnett is attending Kingston High School.

Mrs. James Wesley spent Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Major of Schryver street, Port Jervis.

The extreme cold snap of this week caused some of the men of the village to give up the out-door work at which they were employed.

Services in the M. E. Church for Sunday as follows: Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; morning worship 10:45; evening service at 7:30, the Rev. W. E. Gebhard in charge.

President Is Host At Gay Reception

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Gayety and glamour mingled as high officials and low complimented the Roosevelt reception for government department heads as "a real party."

Dressed of the dignity of functions in years past, last night's event was a glittering display of modishly groomed women and correctly groomed men, who flicked wet sparkles from evening apparel as they arrived.

Accompanied now with an apple portion of his administration capital and his guests, the President had a cheery personal word for many of them as they passed through the receiving line and on to the ballroom for dancing or the small private dining room for a sociable cigarette. At least two generals were among them—Hugh S. Johnson of NRA and Frank T. Rhone of the veterans' administration—and, of course, the cabinet members.

Perhaps as a humorous reminder of the monetary policies of the President, his distant Republican cousin, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, was charmingly gowned in blue velvet with "gold standard" accessories: yellow gold earrings, a red gold necklace with a green gold pendant, a white gold watch bracelet, and gold amber combs bedecking her coiffure.

Texas Bank Robbed Today of $35,000

Colman, Tex., Feb. 2 (AP).—Three men robbed the First National Bank of about $35,000 today and kidnapped 11 employees and officers, releasing 11 but one two blocks away.

Charles F. Woodruff, assistant cashier, was knocked unconscious and was loaded in the robbers' car as they fled. Five others were forced to ride the running board of the automobile as it sped away. All except Woodruff were either thrown from the car or jumped off at a service station.

The robbers entered the bank about a half hour before the usual opening hour, made a negro porter on the floor, and waylaid the other employees as they entered. At 9 o'clock they opened the vault, took the money and quickly ordered all the employees and officials outside and into the car.

Leibhardt, Feb. 2.—Sidney Solberg received 100 per cent in arithmetic regents' examination given at Kerhonkson High School during the week.

District superintendent's grade examinations were given in the school last week. Herman Quick passed the examinations for the first term of the seventh grade, receiving a general average of 83 per cent. Jerry Quick also passed the examinations for the first term of the seventh grade. He received 100 per cent in arithmetic. His general average was 51 per cent.

Promotion certificates based on last June's examinations were received by the teacher last week and given to the following children: Sidney Solberg, second half of seventh grade; Jerry Quick, second half of sixth grade; Herman Quick, second half of sixth grade; Rose Chalkin, second half of sixth grade.

Both girls are well liked here and the teacher and pupils are looking forward to early spring when they will be pupils in this school again.

UNIONIZED HUNTING.

Premier Hermann Goering of Prussia, who already holds many offices and titles in the Hitler government, has now become Master of the Hunt of Prussia. The title is misleading, since it suggests active participation in sport. Apparently Herr Goering is really to be director of conservation of wild life in Prussia.

A new hunting code has been set up, drastically regulating hunting. Hereafter no sportsman can obtain a hunting license unless he is a member of the newly created Hunters' Union, of which Goering is head. The purpose of the code, it is reported, is to eliminate the "meat hunter" in favor of the sportsman, and to assure the maintenance of abundant game throughout the land in order to "preserve the native animal world as the living soul of the home land."

Possibly the German idea has not been accurately presented in that translation. It is clear, however, that game is to receive more protection in Germany than in the past. The hunting code for Prussia is to be extended eventually to the whole Reich. The state, through the local divisions of the Hunters' Union, will determine who shall hunt, and when and where. It is curious, in such a move, to bar the "meat hunter" in favor of the sportsman. The former usually takes only what he requires for food, while the latter, hunting for the sport of killing, often slaughters more than his quota—if he can get away with it.

GETTING BUYERS EXCITED

On the basis of attendance at automobile shows, and the interest shown and orders received, capacity production throughout the industry is predicted by William S. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors. The industry, he adds, "has cleaned house under federal supervision" and has also "given the public something to get excited about."

Here is something for all business men to think over. Other industries, too, have cleaned house under federal supervision, some willingly and others not so willingly, and are now in better shape as regards trade practices and ethics than for decades. But not all have given the public something to get excited about. What will excite the public to the buying point? Quality, cheapness, usefulness, beauty, novelty. The most effective method today, perhaps, is that which Henry Ford discovered and practiced long ago—produce something people want, and offer it to them at less than the current cost of production, reaping the profit as rising sales reduce costs. It takes courage, but this may be a time when fortune is particularly inclined to favor the brave.

COCK-EYED JUSTICE

Wesley Anap of Akron, Ohio, aged 41, with an invalid wife and three children, out of work for four years, went fishing last summer to get something for his family to eat. Wesley was a little too eager. He had a right to fish, but he used two lines and six hooks, which was illegal. So the game warden got him, and a justice of the peace fined him $20.15. Of course Wesley couldn't pay. They put him in jail, but had to let him out again under the indulgent debtor law. The fine still hung over his head, and he paid a dollar or two on it as he was able to earn it from odd jobs.

Then in December he got a CWA job, cleaning streets. That was fine. But the other day, while at work, he was tapped on the shoulder by the same old game warden, and hauled off to jail for the balance of his fine, $19.89. He was no longer an indulgent, it seems, though he had no money—all had gone to his family. In 20 days there he can work out—or suffer the rest of his life. Then what?

He will be free. But if he is missing that long, CWA officials say he will lose his job. Yes, in some ways this is a cock-eyed civilization.

A DESERTED PALACE

They held an auction the other day in Chicago of Edith Rockefeller McCormick's "palace," as an irreverent reporter called it. He also called the proceeding "a twentieth-century version of the looting of the Tuileries." That has an unpleasant sound. It wasn't really looting, anyway. The people who invaded this modern palace were not looting, but merely gazing—or parking, as they say in Pennsylvania. Some wanted to buy the treasures of the palace, but there were so many pawkers in the way that they could hardly reach the ears of the auctioneer.

It was a melancholy spectacle," says the reporter. "The visitors hushed their voices as at a funeral, awed by the reminiscent odor of wealth. Ghosts filled the marble halls. Who, one wonders, will live now in this palace with its garages for 24 cars? Will it join the ever-lengthening list of ruins? It will probably be a boarding house. And will there be any more such palaces built in Chicago? It would be interesting to have a symposium of opinion on that.

LIFE GROWS TOO COMPLICATED FOR

Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, wife of the busy Secretary of the Interior, she has been commuting between Washington and Illinois, where duty requires her presence as a member of the state legislature. She decides, after three or four weeks of shuttling, that she will have to quit as legislator before long, in order to perform her duties in Washington as a cabinet wife. The requirements of social life in official circles at Washington are pretty heavy; and husbands, no doubt, must be looked after. Even the irrepressible and indefatigable Mrs. Roosevelt seems to be shuttling around less lately. But don't make any bad guesses about where women's place is going to be. We'll see more, not less, of the New Feminism from now on.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

EARLY MENTAL SYMPTOMS.

It is rightly estimated that perhaps one-half of the patients the general practitioner is called upon to treat are psychoneurotic—patients with nervous or mental symptoms yet having no real or organic trouble.

In former days the doctor would examine them, find there was no organic trouble and advise them that there was nothing to worry about, and that they should simply forget about their symptoms.

As this advice did not satisfy the majority of these patients, physicians learned that they must do more for them or the symptoms would become more aggravated and the patients might take up some other form of healing to get relief.

Accordingly the usual method now of treating these "neurotic" cases is for the physician to set aside a time other than his usual office hours, and spend as much as one or more hours with each case.

Without forming any opinion as to the cause of the trouble before the examination, he lets the patient talk and tell his story in his own way. Instead of telling the patient that it is all imagination, he listens carefully, knowing that the patient uses his symptoms for certain purposes: that he really doesn't want to part with these symptoms.

The patient has certain problems and he doesn't know how, or doesn't want to know how, to face them. It is his inability or unwillingness to meet these problems in a direct or proper way, that causes the symptoms of which he complains.

By patient listening and careful questioning the physician learns the nature of the problem, or problems, brings these problems right out into the light of day as it were and is able to show the lack of wisdom in not facing or handling the problems; because they can be faced and handled.

Having made a complete examination, the physician is able to show that it is not any of the organic or processes of the body that is causing the symptoms; that the symptoms are due entirely to his not adjusting himself to his work or circumstances.

The physician then tries to show him how best to face his problems.

IN THE JUNGLE
"WE WILL take burro and horse along," continued Ortega, "and when you have finished your plotting, we can push on to the coast. I have a launch there, at my hacienda, and I will take you south to Belice where the United Fruit boats stop. From there you may sail to Cuba. You have plenty of money?"

"Enough," said Greene shortly.

Ortega shrugged. "I would suggest you take enough," he said. "If you carry drafts I can arrange to have them cashed for you." His glance appraised the diamonds on Janice's fingers and at her throat. "It is not wise to wear jewels in these times. You had better hide them."

"Will this trip be safe?" asked the girl.

Ortega shrugged. "I would suggest you take enough," he said. "If you carry drafts I can arrange to have them cashed for you." His glance appraised the diamonds on Janice's fingers and at her throat. "It is not wise to wear jewels in these times. You had better hide them."

Ortega shrugged. "I would suggest you take enough," he said. "If you carry drafts I can arrange to have them cashed for you." His glance appraised the diamonds on Janice's fingers and at her throat. "It is not wise to wear jewels in these times. You had better hide them."

"Will this trip be safe?" asked the girl.

The MICROSCOPE
A SPECTACLE MAKER'S INSTRUMENT FOR PEEKING INTO THE UNKNOWN!!

THE oldest microscope in the world is a quartz lens 1 1/4 inches in diameter which was found in the ruins of Nineveh. Simple lenses were used all during the middle ages, especially by Leeuwenhoek, the Dutch naturalist. The first compound microscope (one that uses two or more separate lenses) was built by Zacharias Janssen, a spectacle maker of Middleburg, Holland. Janssen constructed his instrument about 1590 and presented it to Charles Albert, the Archduke of Austria. It consisted of a copper tube, one inch wide and nearly six feet long, supported on an ebony board by three brass pillars shaped like dolphins. The most important stride forward since Janssen's time was made at the beginning of the last century by Joseph Jackson Lister, the father of the Lister who discovered antiseptics. Lister used lenses ground from two different kinds of glass, thus eliminating color difficulties and paving the way for the modern high power microscope. Today, by using the ultra-microscope, scientists can observe particles so small that they seep through the finest porcelain filters that man can make!

Boiceville Camp Gets New Commander As Wienecke Goes South

Shokan, Feb. 1—Lieutenant Otto Wienecke, U. S. Air Corps, who for the past several months has been the commanding officer at the civilian conservation camp at Boiceville, has been transferred to Mitchell Field, L. I., from which base he will go to Miami, Fla., for flying and gunnery practice. Lieutenant Wienecke expected to leave Camp No. 2 last Sunday. The new officer in charge of the 215th Company is Lieutenant H. B. Whitman, 312th Infantry, who for some time served as finance officer. Lieutenant Wienecke took charge of the local camp following the transfer of Major George W. Easterday to Camp Dix last October and under his command Camp No. 2 has been transformed into a unit of the semi-permanent type and so improved in many ways that it now has the official reputation of being the best conducted group of its kind in the Second Corps district. The lieutenant has made many friends among the woodsmen and the residents of Shokan and Olive, all of whom regret his transfer by the War Department. He is a member of the Fifth Aero Squadron at Mitchell Field.

Basketball Loss
The camp basketball team after a season of brilliant playing was humbled by the Tannersville five last Friday in a return game played at the Chichester hall. Each team has won a game and it is expected that the rubber will be played at some time in the near future. Leland Cassels, giant Marlborough High star, resigned from the team; Ed Trapp, skipper of the camp quintet, sprained a knee, and there were other mishaps which combined to account for the team's mid-season slump. The woodsmen plies succeeded in taking their game with Shokan Friday night, however, winning by the score of 18-16. The usual dance followed the games. The boxers who journeyed to Delmar for the inter-district bouts brought home the bacon in the light and welterweight contests. In the former weight, Leonard Rameer won by a knockout in the first round over Mike Forte of Co. 205, Cherry Plains, while Mat Stastak was equally successful in subduing Victor Beslow of Co. 219. The local boxers were accompanied to Delmar by Lieutenants Wienecke and Freilich of Boiceville. The next inter-district bouts, featuring the semi-finals, will take place on February 19.Cameo Delmar Member Rubenstein, G. C. C., has been assigned to Camp 2 from the corps area service as ambulance driver and to take charge of the army trucks here. The first lecture of the series on forestry subjects took place on Tuesday of last week with Superintendent Ralph Craner in charge. Major Whitman will serve as lecturer in those classes having to do with purely conservation corps subjects. Official callers at Camp 2 last week included Major Ghillini, district executive from Schoenectady, and Lieutenant Weber, of the Field Artillery, who is stationed at the Delmar camp. A party of officers from some headquarters at Fort Ontario is expected to visit Boiceville within a few days. The wet conditions existed throughoutWhite For the Cooks
The six members of the permanent cooking detail are now equipped with white uniforms which are laundered at the government's expense. There are 20 tables, each seating 10 men, in the long mess hall and these are all set with dishes and food before the boys come in to eat. If anyone desires a second helping he carries his dish to the serving tables at the kitchen end of the hall; if peradventure the hungry woodman still is not filled, he is privileged to make a second trip, or even a third, in order to appease that appetite. The menu for the mid-day meal last Sunday was made up as follows: Cream corn soup, roast leg of lamb, mint sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered Brussels sprouts, sweet relish, coffee, sugar, milk, bread, butter and sugar cake. Two 80-pound lambs were used, together with 15 pounds of potatoes, one bushel of sprouts and six pounds of coffee. Frank Michlisch, one of the two first cooks at the camp, was on the job at three o'clock Sunday morning in order to get the big batch of cake baked and the various other Sunday eats prepared for his rather sizeable "family."News From Far Away Four members of the C. C. C. Company stationed in the Grand Canyon National Park, Ariz., have gone archeological, so to speak, these boys having been detailed to clean, file and catalogue as study specimens a considerable lot of excavated pottery, Indian baskets and other interesting relics for exhibition purposes in the park. The Tusayan Museum, located near the Tusayan Ruin, contain exhibitions showing stages in the development of early man, especially in relation to Pueblo history in the southwest. Happy Days, the corps newspaper, states that through the efforts of these boys, many valuable evidences of the early inhabitants of the Grand Canyon region, which might otherwise have been entirely lost, are thus being preserved for the edification of future generations. Apparently it never rains but it pours out in the state of Washington. Co. 164's new camp is but two months old. Since its beginning it rained nearly 50 days without indication of a let-up. The town of Woodland, 27 miles from camp, had the worst flood in years. Telephone lines were down and Co. 164's camp was cut off from civilization. This isolation became complete when a landslide and without even the road. To top it off the neighboring C. C. C. Camp Cougar was made uninhabitable by a dangerous flood and mountain slides; therefore the boys of 164 were pressed into service to help the entire neighboring outfit in addition to themselves. However, it is reported that the boys took their multiplicity of troubles like men. Nevertheless, the woodsmen stationed in many sections of Washington are about fed up on Jupiter Pluvius and his well known stuff. Similar wet conditions existed throughout much of the states of Idaho and Montana.

Montana and Texas.
One of the largest camps is the Nine-Mile, in Montana, where 600 men comprising three companies are stationed. On the Milwaukee trail, held up at St. Regis, Montana, a country by road conditions, was a quarter of beef and some beans destined for Co. 952 at Nine-Mile. The hungry passengers discovered the provisions and afterwards informed the elves that their ration were "fit for a king." The beef made by the woodman is not given. Co. No. 897, Oakhurst, Tex., has a fine set-up for its water supply. Being located near an abandoned sawmill, the outfit takes its water from a 300-foot well, runs it into a battery of four big boilers, one of which is fired by two members as full time at this detail. With steam from this boiler, water is pumped into an elevated tank from which it is gravity fed to the camp 800 yards distant. Quite a stunt, this... A rock garden and rock walks are features of the grounds of Co. 855's new camp, El Paso, Texas. Twelve-foot, majestic Yuccas stand at the entrance like sentinels. A huge cactus bed runs the entire length of the administration building, and in it are represented ten large varieties of cacti. The camp lily pool contains rare water lilies donated by El Paso's superintendent of parks. The rock garden contains sixteen varieties of cacti. All of which apparently is unique in the way of C. C. C. landscaping. . . . Noteworthy for bragging about the service records of their cars may ponder the case of Private Hurst of the Fourth Hospital Corps Co., Fort Sam Houston, Texas. While rolling up a total of 20,242 miles on his "bugger," Driver Hurst has had not one accident, nor has he had been expended for repairs, though his mileage was made on all kinds of roads, traversed in all sorts of weather, day and night, in the course of calls from 19 conservation corps camps. The record brought Hurst a citation from headquarters.LAKE KATRINE.
Lake Katrine, Feb. 2.—Miss Laura Shiels spent the week-end at her home here.

Miss Dorothy Mayes, who had been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Auchmoody, has returned to Kingston.

A number from this place attended the Home Department meeting which was held Thursday in Kingston at the home of Mrs. Yen. A good time was had by all.

Mrs. Hazel Auchmoody had been visiting at her parents' home here. Mrs. Ernest Decker and family spent Saturday afternoon in Kingston.

"COMEDY FOURSCOME" WILL BE SHOWN IN PORT EWEN

Active plans are well under way for "Comedy Foursome," a program of four one-act comedies which will be presented under the auspices of the consistory in the Reformed Church February 15 and 16 in Port Ewen. Each play will represent a different type of comedy and the 30 members of the main cast have been chosen from the members of the various organizations in the church and community.

Miss Marion Lina Turner of Albany and Chatham, N. J., is coaching the production. The popularity of "Comedy Foursome" in other towns has reached Port Ewen and the people in this vicinity are keenly anticipating the production.

Members of the cast and committees will be announced later.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

The average New Yorker regards noise merely as a matter of course. His ear attuned to the rattle, bang, roar and shrill of the city, he goes about his business as if he were in the midst of quiet. But when there are unaccustomed noises, the jangled nerves of the New Yorker are quick to cry out. For instance, last summer a friend returned after a few days in the country complaining that the birds made it impossible for him to sleep. Another who visited friends in a remote section of Detroit came back with the complaint that every morning he was awakened by the clanging, clump of the heavy feet of the horse of a milkman. The gentlemen annoyed by the birds lives in a Broadway hotel. The other has a residence on West Seventy-second street near the yards of the New York Central.

The Bryant Park district has plenty of noise. I've forgotten the rattling given that particular section in the desecrated content conducted some time ago but it was well up in the class of Herald Square which was found to be the noisiest part of New York. The Sixth avenue elevated furnishes its full quota of sound. Traffic adds to it. Then there are the whistles of traffic officers, the shouts of vendors and other quiet-shattering proceedings. But not until chiming came to Fortieth street was there any complaint. The chiming struck every quarter hour and when they had been doing that a few weeks, a formal complaint was made in magistrates' court.

One of the complainants was Bainbridge Colby, lawyer and former secretary of state. Mr. Colby, whose offices are near the chiming, maintained that they kept him from engaging in his customary work. The chiming were no call to repentance, he maintained. They were of the go-getter type and thus a nuisance. Before the matter got into court, the loudspeakers were adjusted and the chiming, which advertise shoes, were toned down so that the Bryant Park district could hear the elevated again and everybody was happy.

New York's general immunity to noise is well illustrated by the subway. When I first took an underground ride, my sensations were that I was in a boiler shop gone mad. After awhile, the infernal din seemed to die away. Apparently that was the case with everybody since there was no great complaint. By and by, the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., of its own accord, discovered that it could make the turnstiles quit their banging by the judicious use of rubber. For some time after that, the subway seemed strange because the usual rush hour salvos were missing.

Along came the Eighth avenue subway. Noise-proofing was taken into consideration in the laying of the tracks and construction of the cars. When that line went into operation subway riders found to their surprise that they could converse while the train was speeding along. Lately, the Interborough company got busy and put three "noiseless" trains into operation as an experiment. If the public reacts favorably enough, all trains will be equipped with noise-killing devices. So there is a prospect that there still be some noise decrease in this extremely noisy town.

Just space now for an incident that struck me as funny. One of the best known mystics in the country, an Egyptian, appeared at a little gathering on Central Park west. Along about three in the morning, the mystic, clad in full white regalia, stepped into a motor car to be driven to his hotel. No more than had the car door closed than a policeman rushed across the street. "Sir, where's that fellow going in his nightshirt?" he demanded. And it took a lot of explaining to convince him that the Egyptian was neither on his way to a hospital nor crazy.

Pupils With Defective Eyes Have Special Light

Austin, Texas.—Rooms with special lighting and school books with extra large type are being used here for a group of 17 public school pupils, singled out for an experiment in sight conservation.

The work is being sponsored by the Lions club.

Examinations which preceded the test showed 273 school children of 4,672 tested had defective sight. Further tests reduced the number selected for the sight conservation class to 17. Dr. Henry L. Hightner, Jr., oculist, interested the club and city school officials in the project.

Coffin Too Large
to Use for Burial

Paris.—Henri Titehomme de Gourmay, a wealthy landowner of Bollogne died recently in the heavy, ornate coffin that he had used as a bed for the past 33 years, and in which he hoped to be buried. His relatives, however, found the coffin so bulky that to get it out of the home either the coffin or the home would have to be dismantled.

To save complications, an ordinary wooden casket was purchased and de Gourmay was buried in that. The coffin-bed is being kept by the family as a relic.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all friends, relatives, neighbors, nurses and all whose kindness was so greatly appreciated during the illness and death of my sister, Mrs. Emma B. Bishop.

Loughran Sets Feb. 3
For Scarnici Decision

Dubois Attorney Hays Until Tomorrow to Decide on Tentative Advance Date of Trial to Feb. 10 From Feb. 10.

Troy, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Dubois attorneys for Leonard Scarnici have been given until tomorrow to decide on the tentative advancement to February 13 of the trial of the alleged New York city gangster on a charge of murdering a Rochester detective during a bank holdup last May 29.

The decision to advance the trial date from February 10 was decided at a conference with Supreme Court Justice John T. Loughran, who was designated by the appellate division to preside at the trial of Scarnici soon after a change of venue to Schoharie county was granted by Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley on January 22.

District Attorneys Harry E. Clinton of Rochester county and J. Ernest Wharton of Schoharie county approved the change in date, which was made possible by early completion of the regular calendar.

Charles F. Moehan and Harold W. Founck, attorneys of this city, said they would confer with Michael I. Winter, Scarnici's head counsel, as to whether they would agree to the new date.

Soon after announcement of the change was made yesterday, police revealed the death of one of the jurors at Scarnici's first trial, which ended in a disagreement that brought many expressions of protest from the public and civic organizations.

John J. Owens, 48, of this city, juror number 9, was picked up Wednesday night on the street. Police said he was dazed and sent him to the Marshall Sanitarium, where he died yesterday afternoon. Death was due, they said, to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Scarnici is charged with shooting James A. Stevens. Two defendants with him were acquitted and his attorneys asked for a change of venue on the ground he could not get a fair trial in Rochester county.

Awaiting Reply On Milk Agreement

Governor Lehman's Agricultural Advisory Commission Awaits Reply From Federal Administration—Proposals Recommended.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Governor Lehman's agricultural advisory commission today awaited a reply from the federal agricultural adjustment administration to its suggestion that the proposed milk marketing agreement for the New York metropolitan area be revised to include "certain principles and recommendations."

While approving "in principle" the agreement designed to stabilize the New York market and recognizing that "during the emergency in the milk industry the need of federal assistance is essential," the commission yesterday in a conference with Governor Lehman and state milk control board officials recommended four proposals to strengthen the part formulated by the AAA.

They are:

That the agreement shall not invalidate health or sanitary regulations of any state or municipality.

That no provision shall impair any power of a state milk control board or other state or municipal officer that can be exercised consistent with the power of the secretary of agriculture.

That the definition of fluid milk be changed to make it the same as now used in the New York law.

That an advisory board representative of the milk industry be formed to advise the milk marketing administrator who is to administer the provisions of the agreement.

Whether the federal administration will take action on the commission's request before the public hearings in New York next Monday and at Syracuse on Friday was not known. Some sources believed, however, that it would wait to hear the opinion of dairymen at the public hearings before making any revisions.

The proposed pact, the first of the new milk shed programs scheduled to be placed into operation by the AAA, affects all producers shipping milk into the New York metropolitan area. These are from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

Meanwhile, the state board emphasized the fact that its recent order withdrawing enforcement of the order fixing prices from dealers to stores and restaurants applies only to New York city and not upstate. The board in its first announcement created the impression the action was state-wide.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The art of acting can be learned not only at dramatic schools and theaters but also in the business of opening doors and standing by at dinner parties.

And acting is as much a matter of concealing emotion as of revealing it.

Hence the perfect butler—as Samuel May avers—is also a perfect actor.

Not So Easy

May makes his film debut in "Rip Tide," the Norma Shearer film whose locale jumps from one aristocratic continental home to another, thus necessitating a dozen or so impersonations of well-trained butlers. Among these of course is Halliwell Hobbes, the screen's inveterate door-opener and tray-carrier, whose reputation for screen butling is rivaled only by Edgar Norton's.

Besides playing a part in the film, Samuel May, in private life a veteran major dome, is supervising all the "service" in the production.

To maintain unruffled calm in the face of a thousand-and-one incidents which may occur even in the best-regulated of homes is a cardinal requisite of the perfect butler—and the butler who is no actor is seldom able to do this, and hence is no perfect butler. You gather as much from May's remarks.

"It is often difficult," he says, "for a butler to keep a straight face, especially if he is employed in a newly-rich home. The perfect butler certainly has to be a good actor. He has to dramatize every meal, make it attractive and appetizing through perfect service."

When is a star an extra or bit-player, and vice versa?

In a movie about movies, of course—especially in movies about little extra girls who become stars. And there's a new actress who has been walking on air because she was told she would be the star in her first picture—and she'll probably be treading the clouds until she learns that the "star" has that rating only in the movie within a movie, and has but one scene!

"It Happened One Day" is a book now being filmed. Another studio claims "It Happened One Night" changed a previous title. The possibilities have not been exhausted by any means, however. There are afternoon, morning, midnight, sunrise, sunset, twilight, tea-time, evening, forenoon, and so on and on, all suggesting good, original movie titles.

HOW

TO TELL ENGRAVED FROM OFFSET KIND OF PRINT.—Although the difference is great between offset printing and engraving as regards stamps, to the beginner it is often a baffling problem. But when he is shown, it is such a simple matter that the novice has before him, how it escaped him.

Perhaps the answer lies in the fact that only three values of United States stamps are produced by offset printing and exactly the same design was used for the same value that had been engraved. Only the one, two and three cent values were so produced, says a writer in the Detroit News.

The processes of manufacture are so dissimilar that anyone at all familiar with the different methods of stamp production will have no difficulty in telling engraved stamps from those of the offset printing. The effect of the latter is very like lithography—that is, the stamps have an absolutely flat appearance even when examined under a magnifying glass, while in the engraved stamps of similar design all the minor lines appear as ridges above the surface of the paper even with small magnification.

The two processes of printing are as unlike as their products. In the case of the engraved stamp the impression is applied directly to the paper and often produces an embossed effect. In the offset process the design is transferred from a plate or stone to a rubber roller where it is applied to the paper. The result is entirely without the embossed effects of engraving.

How Name "Canada" Was Given to That Country

Footprints of past generations are revealed in a country's place-names. In Canada, as in every land, it has always been the custom to honor great men or outstanding events by placing their names on the map. To have a fair knowledge of the meaning of our place-names is to understand the foundations of Canadian history, says the Montreal Herald.

The name "Canada" takes us away back to Cartier's day. It was in 1495 when on his second voyage of exploration, that his Indian guide kept repeating the word "Canadian" wherever there was a collection of native huts. The word is believed to be derived from the Iroquois "Kanata" meaning a lodge or a cabin.

Ottawa is also an Indian name—the name of a tribe—thought to have come from "adewo," to trade. The men belonging to the tribe known as "the Ottawas" were good hunters, and they brought their pelts, by way of the Ottawa river, down to the fur traders on the St. Lawrence. Before the city of Ottawa was chosen for Canada's capital it was called Bytown, having been named in honor of Colonel By, the engineer of the Rideau canal. The name was changed shortly before the confederation of the Dominion province.

How to Stake a Claim

When a claim has been located, usually a monument of stones or logs, stakes, etc., is built in the center of the claim, in which is placed a tin can or other suitable receptacle containing a written declaration of claim to that particular tract, described as so many feet each direction (depending upon the number of acres allowed for a claim in that particular locality, the size of claims being different in different states or territories). The tin can or receptacle is turned upside down in order to protect the written declaration from the weather. The claim is then filed with the nearest recorder or recorder of the county in which the claim is located, as soon as possible, especially where others may know of the claim or locality. A full description as to location should be filed with the recorder.—Washington Star.

How First Chinese Got Over

From the forcibly opened ports of China, slaves took coolies to Peru. In 1850 about 20 of these escaped and by various pretexts and means obtained passage on a vessel bound for California in the early gold dust days. These particular Chinamen later returned to their own country, but they spread there the tales of California and of the gold which was found there. The result was the immigration of Chinese to California.

How Cats Purrr

The purring sound made by cats is made by throwing the vocal cords into vibration measured and regulated by the respiration, and this vibration is strong enough to make the whole larynx tremble so that it may be felt or seen from the outside. Purring is highly characteristic of the cat tribe, though probably not confined to it. It is usually the means by which these felines show contentment.

How Cousins Are Related

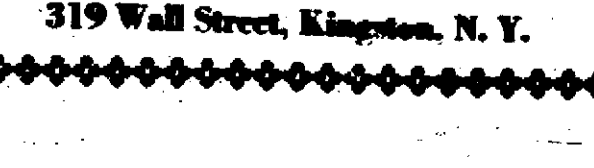

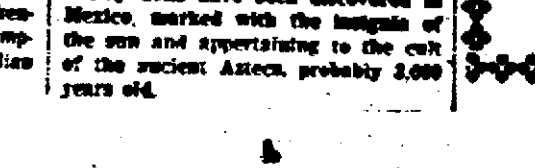

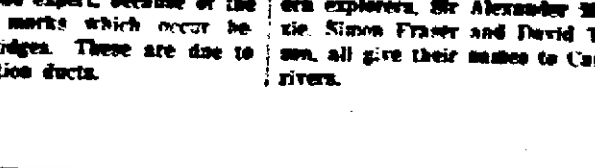

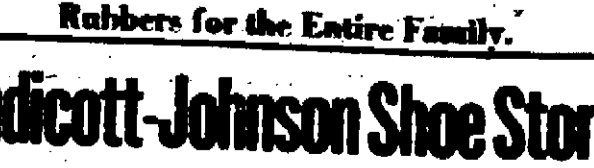

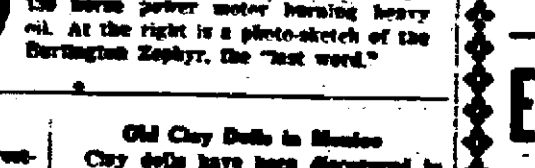

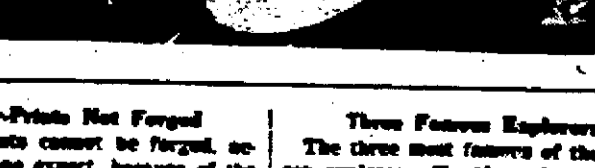

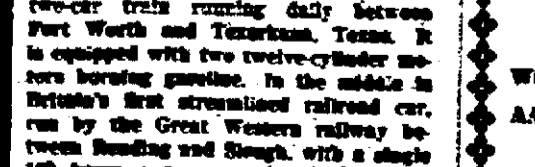

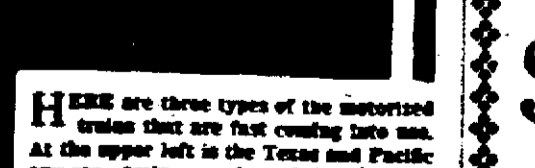

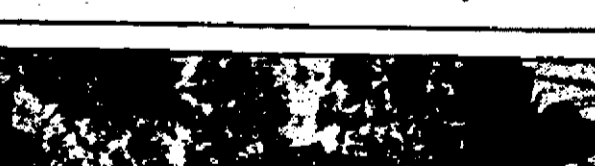

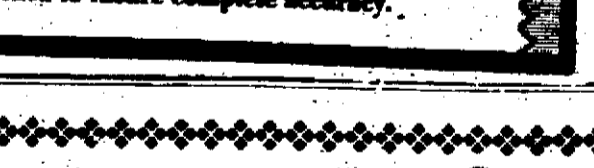

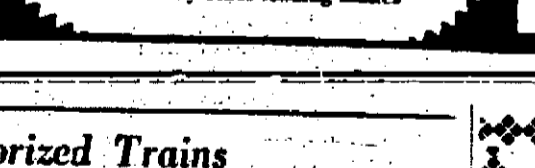

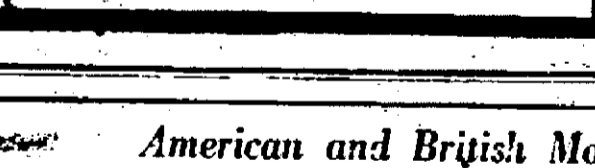

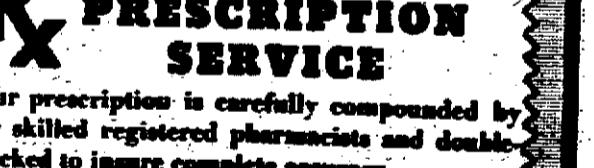

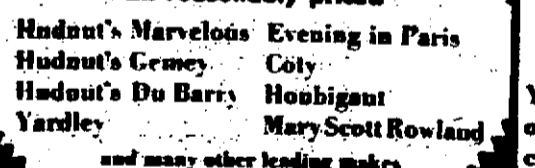

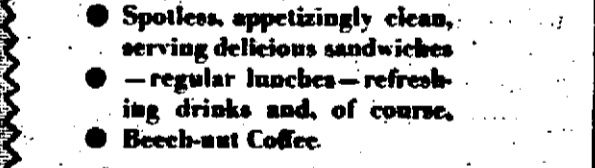

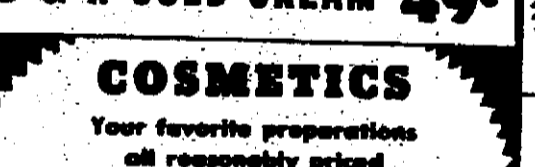

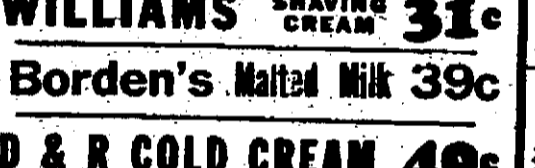

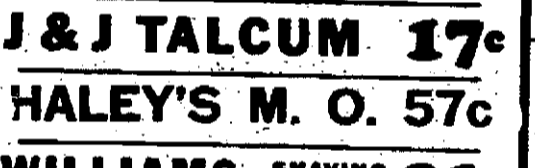

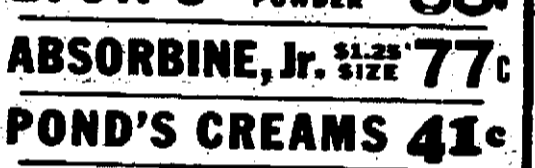

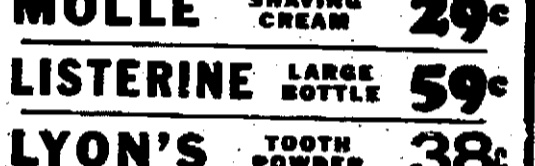

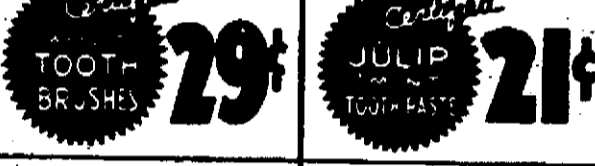

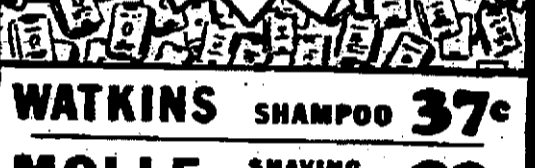

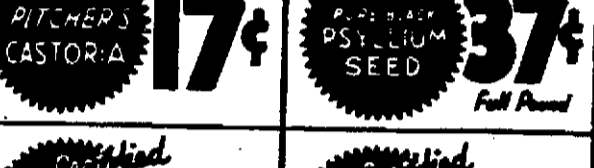

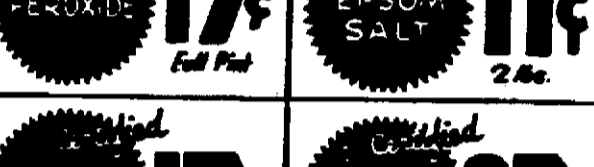

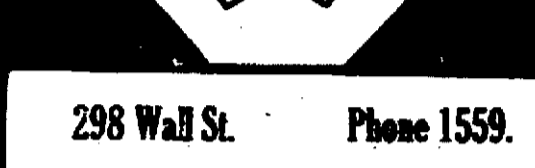

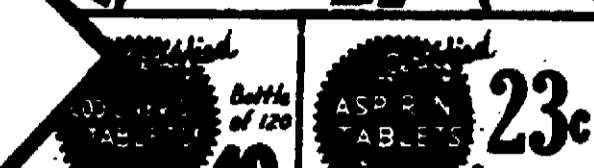

Children of brothers and sisters are to each other first cousins or cousins-german; children of first cousins are to each other second cousins while a child in a first cousin, once removed, is the first cousin of his parents.

Portrayal Of Indian Life At Albany Avenue Baptist

The life of South India with its ancient problems arising from the caste system and the presence of millions of impoverished untouchables will be portrayed in a remarkable manner by Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Manley in an exhibition at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church Wednesday evening, February 7, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The experience of the Manleys has made them expert interpreters of the customs and character of the Indian people, among whom they have spent many years as missionaries. They wear the dress of the country and give a dramatic dialogue that is made highly effective by the exceptional artistry shown in this presentation. There will be present delegations from several churches to enjoy the portrayal by the Manleys.

Will Examine 52 Children Daily In City Survey

In Cooperation with Ulster County Medical Society and State Health Department a Nutrition Survey of Preschool Children Starts Here on February 12.

In cooperation with the Ulster County Medical Society and the state department of health, the State Temporary Emergency Relief Administration has arranged for the conduct of a nutrition survey of children of preschool age as well as infants in Kingston and Ulster county for at least six weeks, beginning on Monday, February 12. It is planned to examine 52 children daily during the six week period.

The plan is to examine as many children as possible in the time allotted to determine their present nutritional and general physical status in order to discover to what extent the economic depression has affected the health of children.

Through Mr. Shultz and Mr. Deyo, of the city and county CWA, and Mr. Tinkle, of the National Reemployment Bureau, arrangements have been made to have the appointments for preliminary work done by local nurses on CWA projects. Four nurses have been allotted to Kingston and eight nurses in the county. Through the courtesy of Mayor C. J. Heiseleman, the common council chambers in the city hall have been made available for the examinations which will be conducted by the child health consultation unit of the state health department.

Where, in the course of the examinations nutritional or physical defects are discovered, parents will be advised of the fact and instructed in the necessity of immediately consulting their family physician for remedial treatment since no treatment of any kind is given at the time of the examination.

At the completion of the examinations follow-up visits will be made by the nurses in an effort to direct as many children as possible needing medical care to their family physicians.

The examinations here are a part of a general nutrition survey being conducted in representative communities in various parts of the state. They are now being completed in Newburgh and following the examinations here other communities both urban and rural will probably be surveyed in the same manner.

Michael Stillman Believed Drowned In Hudson River

Sophomore at St. Stephen's College, Annandale, left college to cross river to visit father in Bearsville—Sheepskin Coat and Skis Found Near Hole in River Ice This Morning.

Michael Stillman, Jr., 20, of Roseland, N. J., a sophomore at St. Stephen's College at Annandale, is believed drowned in the Hudson River off Tivoli, and his sheepskin coat and his pair of skis were found this morning near a hole in the ice in which he is thought to have fallen to his death early Thursday evening.

The youth, a son of Michael Stillman, an architect who for several years has had a summer home near Bearsville, left Tivoli about 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon to visit his father in Bearsville. He carried a pair of skis, a rifle and a pack and was hauling a box loaded with stones. It was evidently the youth's thought that if he should fall into the water that he could haul himself to the surface with the aid of the boxload of stones.

Shortly after the young man had started to cross the river ice Charles Osterhoudt, station agent at Tivoli, and Reginald Garrett, another railroad employe, heard cries for help. The Tivoli fire department was notified and several members walked out onto the ice trailing foot steps to a hole in the ice caused by the daily trips of the river steamers. At that time, however, they did not find the coat and skis and it was not until the steamer had passed Tivoli this morning that the articles were found on the ice.

Every indication pointed to the fact that someone had fallen into the river, but at that time the identity of the person was not known.

The identity was first established when it became known that young Stillman had left college that afternoon with the intention of crossing on the ice to Saugerties and the box of stones that he was pulling was found on the ice. William Easton of Bedford, Ill., and Edward Stillane of Queens Village, L. I., both students at the college said that Stillman had asked them to make the trip with him but they had refused as they believed it too risky to attempt to cross on the ice.

The college authorities sought assistance in Poughkeepsie and also got in touch with the sheriff's office here and Sergeant Cunningham and Trooper Benecal covered the Saugerties side of the river in the hope that Stillman might have been able to extricate himself and reach this side.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON—On the night of Tuesday, January 30, there will be a gathering at the White House for the first time since the death of President Hoover. A group of 15 men and women who were associated with Hoover in the White House will be present. The group includes the President-elect, Mr. Roosevelt, and his family, and a number of his friends and associates. The gathering is being held in the White House, and it is expected that it will be a very intimate and pleasant occasion.

He's Still 'The Boss'

THE ROOSEVELT home in New York City, at Hyde Park, at Albany and now at the White House almost every year since 1920 they have met with "the boss."

His guests for the evening are those who 14 years ago were associated with him in the first time for high position in the team of national politics—the presidency.

That was in 1920 when he was the running mate of James Cox on the Democratic ticket. He was defeated in that campaign, but the family and friendship of those so closely associated with him never has been forgotten.

They were all attached to "the boss" as they still call him.

It's All Informal

AT the Roosevelt home in New York City, at Hyde Park, at Albany and now at the White House almost every year since 1920 they have met with "the boss."

It is an evening given over entirely to fun.

But along with it all there is a deep current of real affection. It is significant that each of the men in the group possesses a pair of gold cuff buttons presented to them by Mr. Roosevelt. One bears the initials of the owner, the other F. D. R.'s own initials.

New Hi-Test Coal
Black Stork Anthracite gives steady, continuous heat all day—with less attention to the furnace.

Many homes seem hard to heat because the coal used doesn't give steady, even heat—the kind of heat you need for such houses. Such coal may have slate—which robs you of heat; or clinkers that clog the grate and halt the heat.

You can eliminate these troubles at once and forever if you ask for BLACK STORK, that new Hi-Test Anthracite. This improved coal is 99.77% slate free; it can't clinker. You get all the heat you pay for—steady heat all day. With far less attention to the furnace, too.

Fashions by Eleanor Gunn

The Slot Sleeve Opens Up Nicely

New York—The slot sleeve has been a fashion success this winter. It is made in many ways and of many materials, but the basic idea, to show the upper section of the arm in the same. Many neck veils, with long sleeves, slashed from shoulder to wrist, and dark bodices slashed from neckline to waist have been much worn. This type of dress has really been the winter uniform of the woman who avoids over dressing.

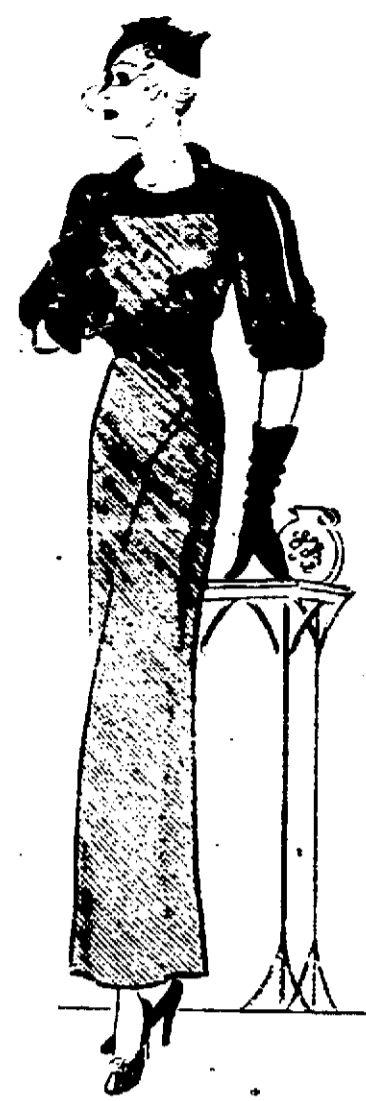

That there is more and more demand for the type of dress in which one feels dressed almost anywhere, is not news but it is truth. There would be many such dresses were it not for the variance in skirt lengths. Women feel absurd in long dresses for street wear and so, unless they are sure of being driven hither and yon, eschew the long skirt until cocktail time at least. Bodices are more or less interchangeable, at least many of them are, but it's the skirt length that complicates life for woman who likes to be appropriately gowned.

Now that the smartest women wear a bit of beading, or some silver cloth by day, even admitting a sparkle or two before nightfall, all would be well were it not for the fluctuation in skirts. Word comes to us from our most reliable source that French women are shortening their street clothes, and as they were already wearing them several inches shorter than we were, you can figure it out for yourself.

One sees many really well dressed women, even after dark, wearing skirts that escape the floor but then this proves nothing as just as many elegant women are trailing their skirts behind them, or holding them up if the occasion calls for greater freedom of action.

The burning question whether to cover or uncover one's shoulders, is one such woman must decide for herself and according to her lights and—her shoulders. As long as there are no half way measures about it either way is correct.

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

The slashed, or draped to show the arm, sleeve is a great dinner dress favorite. This one has the new high-at-back neckline.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

The revival of quilting that Lanvin was so largely responsible for last spring is again apparent this season.

A most important accessory note is the wearing of low-heeled sandals by fashionable young women.

Most interesting from a fashion point of view are the more vibrant blues with an anachronistic cast. These are variously known in the trade by such names as Luxor, midshipman, cosack, and are blues that have enough character in themselves to make them desirable for suits without fur.

Talks to parents

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

To most mothers the girl's development offers fewer problems than the boy's, and though they may find the years 14 to 15 trying in the extreme, they are not surprised at the sudden changes which every girl of this age is subject.

She cries without apparent cause, and often is herself puzzled by her tears, and ashamed of shedding them. Her fits of unnatural gaiety are equally incomprehensible. She experiments with make-up, probably tries cigarettes on the sly.

When a girl is in this awkward huddle-de-hoy age, her interest in boys would be ludicrous if it were not pathetic. From an attitude of scorn she suddenly changes to an open expression of interest. Sometimes it takes itself out in a languid affection of indifference, sometimes in obvious crushes.

The only way to hold a girl during this period is with a firm but very easy rein. If she is conscious of restraint, she will assert her independence by secret expeditions which may well get her into trouble, or will withdraw into a hurt and lonely silence.

She needs help in understanding herself, which only another woman, preferably her mother, can give. And, above all, she needs sympathy when in moments of bewilderment and humiliation at her own unaccountable behavior she seeks comfort and reassurance.

For she cannot know that she is not an unusual phenomenon. She feels herself an exception, and therefore misunderstood. The saddest thing in youth is the mistaken sense of loneliness in matters that are really a common heritage.

TURK RIGHTIST SEES RED IN KEMAL PARTY

Ankara, (AP)—Just as Turkey is adopting a five-year industrial plan, a cry of communism has risen within the people's party. This is Mustafa Kemal's party, the only political organization allowed in Turkey.

One group of this party, led by Mahmud Bey, influential deputy of parliament, publicly stigmatizes as communist the aims of what amounts to a left group of the same party.

The stigmatized group includes prominent deputies and other government officials. Including the director of the press, Vedat Nedim Bey.

Real Communism Seen

Mahmud Bey says in the official daily "Milliyet" that the aims of the left group, as expressed in their organ "Kadro," do not resemble communism, but are communism itself.

The "Kadro" group, he claims, want Turkey's five-year plan to constitute a monopoly in the state of all major means of production and transportation, and of heavy and light industries. This group would leave to private initiative no thing but small, primitive work shops.

Mahmud Bey's attack against "the communists" which was to run in a series of articles in the "Milliyet," ceased abruptly after publication of the second article. Who silenced him is one of the mysteries surrounding the whole affair.

Premier's Stand Uncertain

That Ismet Pasha, prime minister, advocates a system of state capitalism, is known from his published statements. But just how far he is prepared to go and how strong are the forces of the right within the party pulling for private capitalism are not publicly apparent.

No authorized statements regarding details of the industrial plan have been made. According to a reliable source, however, it is certain that the government plans to create and run three textile mills.

It also plans extensive developments of coal mines at Zonguldak and of sulphur production, and is sending a group of young Turks to Italy to specialize in the latter field.

Tempest Booms British Fishing

Plymouth, England (AP)—A winter gale battered the coast here but blew good for the fishing fleet which landed 1,500,000 herring over night, the largest catch in a year. When the tempest came the herring moved up from deep water and the fleet, working in the teeth of the storm, cashed in.

Haven't you noticed that your happiest hours occur on days when you feel your best?

Have more of these happy days. You and all your family. Guard health while you have it. Keep on the sunny side of life.

The greatest enemy of health is constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Certainly it kills enthusiasm! Yet it can be banished by using a delicate cathartic.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's All-Bran supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in All-Bran is much like that in leafy vegetables. Now that pleasure in eating this delicious ready-to-eat cereal can be taken without doubt.

Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic constipation, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Keep on the sunny side of life.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

Simplicity and Good Style.

5119. An excellent model for general year: trim and neat for office or classroom. With the tie collar under the chin one gets just a glimpse of the smart square neckline, which is all revealed if the collar is omitted or the ends are thrown back on the neck. A most pleasing sleeve goes with this simple frock. The soft fulcrum building out the shoulders a very little. And there is a kick pleat in front below the closing.

You will like this in the new woollens or in the rough serviceable silks. It is also suggested for crepe or linen.

Designed in 6 sizes: 14, 16, 18, 20 with corresponding bust measure 32, 34, 36, 38 and also in 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39 inch material if made without contrast in belt and collar. Collar and belt in contrasting material require 1/2 yard.

Japanese Turn North In Brazil

Rio De Janeiro (AP)—Japan may introduce settlers to a new area, the northeastern state of Piahy. Most of the 140,000 Japanese now in Brazil are on coffee plantations in Sao Paulo but Kyoichi Hatori, representing Japanese emigration societies, has visited Piahy to study possibilities in that sub-tropical state.

MODENA

GO LAST CIRCUIT FLOOR

Modena, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Martha Whitmore, collector of general and highway taxes in the town of Placerville, was at the Modena Hotel Monday, January 29, for the purpose of collecting taxes in the Modena district.

The sudden change from mild to severe winter weather, with high winds and temperature registering below zero, came as a disagreeable surprise of those who are not prophetic. Those who were possibly occupied, and lived to pay their taxes.

Mrs. DuBois Grimm has accepted a position to teach in Highland High School during the remainder of the school term.

Myron Miller returned to Clinton Corners Sunday evening after spending the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Anna Miller, and his brother, Frank.

Peter Wilkins of New Hurley, supervisor of the town of Placerville, was a business visitor in town Monday.

The open season for rabbit hunting terminates Wednesday, and all butchers will thereafter resume business, which may have been hindered by the supply of game.

The Griffith property, south of Modena village, has been sold to people from Long Island, who have taken possession and are now occupying the place.

Mrs. Beulah Kelder of Ardona was a caller on friends in this place last week.

Denmark Files Papers

GO LAST CIRCUIT FLOOR

Copenhagen (AP)—The last "Za-circus" in Denmark has closed. Modern hygiene is blamed for its disappearance.

"For several years we have experienced growing difficulty in finding new artists," said the manager. "Even advertising in the newspapers gave no result. There just don't seem to be any more sons left. So when my leading lady died I had no successor and I was forced to quit."

Turkey Exploits Own Sulphur

Ankara (AP)—As part of its five-year industrial plan, the government has handed over Turkey's chief sulphur mine to the official Sumer bank and the semi-official Ish bank. The banks will exploit rich deposits at Kechiburli, province of Isparta, as a means of halting importation of sulphur.

Nervous?

Here is a medicine which quiets quivering nerves. . . . You eat better. . . . sleep better. 98 out of 100 women say—"it helps me."

"Before my baby was born I was run-down nervous. My mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ease my nerves and prepare me for childbirth. After only a few bottles I was up and doing my work cheerfully. Childbirth was very easy, thanks to your medicine."—Mrs. John Ellis, 6308 So. Campbell Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

"For five years I suffered terribly with headache and backache and was so nervous I would have to go to bed. I took different medicines but with no results until a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking four bottles I am a different woman. I only wish I had started on it when I first had my troubles."—Mrs. H. H. Lashby, 202 N. 34th St., Louisville, Kentucky.

"Mother gave me the Compound when I was 13. I took it at childbirth and at the change. It has been wonderful."—Mrs. John W. Appleton, 225 Walnut Street, Aubur Park, N. J.

Purchasing For The Local CWA

Max L. Roben is Purchasing Agent
Through Whom All Materials
Needed in Projects Here Are Purchased.

The job of placing some 1,200 men at work requires that they be supplied with materials and tools to carry on their activities. The men are registered in accordance with their skill in the numerous trades and also for the rough construction work to be done on streets or for the reconstruction of the old armory into the Kingston Municipal Auditorium.
The scope embraces the use of many hundred different items of materials. Max L. Roben is the purchasing agent through whom all materials are purchased, subject to the approval of Henry Forst, chairman of the local CWA, and Harford Shal-lis, executive secretary. The purchasing methods instituted by Mr.
Roben has resulted in purchasing on a scientific basis with resulting savings to the city.

The business is distributed equitably without any preference given one dealer over another, and when under NRA regulations, the price of the items is identical, the business is distributed on a fair ratio.

The materials going into the reconstruction of the old armory are brick, lumber, electric materials, painting, plumbing and steam heating, and each kind of work is in charge of a foreman who in turn is responsible to Hugh McCollough, superintendent in charge of the work.

In the construction of the sewers,
the major item, pipe, ranges in size from 8 inches to 48 inches with a very large price range; also large quantities of cement, brick and sheathing lumber are required.

The local CWA maintains a storeroom to which all small materials and tools are shipped and the same is received by a storekeeper who is responsible for the material and tools.
A daily inventory is kept of all materials on hand.

More than 500 different and distinct orders have been placed since December 1 of last year. In Kingston, due to the fairness and the cooperation of the numerous dealers, it is found that the local CWA buys many of its items at prices that are lower than in other cities in the Hudson valley.

cident as a settlement had been

$10,000 Award Made In Favor Cuten Agent

Court Ends $150,000 Publicity Suit Began by Grain Man's "Ghost Writer"—Cuten Claims Community of Interests Prompted Work.

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP).—A $10,000 award against Arthur W. Cuten, veteran board of trade operator, was voted today by a jury trying the $50,000 suit by John R. Mauff for services rendered as Cuten's "ghost writer."

Cuten had conducted a long campaign to have the government's regulations of grain trading amended in favor of the grain buyer.

The articles that were published,
the letters written to high government officials, the radio script purporting to come from Cuten's hand were mostly written by Mauff.

He demanded $50,000 compensation for the propaganda job.
Cuten, admitting the grain futures act of 1922 cramped his style and smothered futures trading to his detriment as a speculator, said in defense that he and Mauff were bosom friends with common interests and opinions, and they were partners in propaganda. He said he had never promised Mauff any compensation, but worked with him toward an end they both desired.

Plans Afoot For Russian Trade Bank

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP).—President Roosevelt is considering the creation of a banking corporation here to serve as a medium for financing Russian trade.

Details are being worked out by Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation, and William C. Bullitt, ambassador to Russia, who will depart for his post on February 15.

The idea of the plan is to organize an agency which can establish certain endorsements of loans to Russia.
It would not be a strict credit proposition but rather would involve the financing of exporters who would share in the business risk.

The amount of money involved in the Russian trade has not been estimated. The administration is seeking to develop this new field.

ing of the St. Stephen's College

Four New Members On Kiwanis Birthday

Kiwanis had a birthday meeting on Thursday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel when Dr. Boeve officially brought into the Kiwanis world as new members, Bernard Feney, William McBride, N. Jansen Fowler and George Matthews. He told them that this was the 19th anniversary of the birth of Kiwanis International and urged them to cooperate in good civic movements as all good Kiwanians should. "You are selected men," he said. "The social side of life is a strong feature in Kiwanis. Forget your cares and worries and rather think and talk with your fellow members who are also business and professional men."

They were urged to give their utmost support to the various Kiwanis activities and were instructed as to their duties in supporting the dental clinic, the milk fund, 4-H Club work,
the scholarship in honor of Miss Mc-Cullough, promotion of educational institutions and the effort to promote a better relationship between the rural and city dwellers.

The Rev. Samuel W. Steele of Amenia, who is a Poughkeepsie Ki-wanian and formerly a member of the Oswego Club, spoke on the "University of Kiwanis." He said that it is an institution of men, not buildings, and the spirit of it is embodied in character. The four leading councils of Kiwanis being sports, friendship, altruism and fellowship or tolerance. "We kid ourselves about being kids again, but we can't," he said. "We act mature,
call each other by our first names, forget together, get rid of stiff formality and learn to play together. We must keep our friendship in repair."
The circle continually narrows as old friends pass. In Kiwanis we make devoted friends and a second growth develops as others pass on. Kiwanis puts a man in position so that he can be better get the other fellow's point of view. His outlook on business, politics, religion and personality standards help us to be broader.
Kiwanis is building manhood for the future.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—The new and smaller gold dollar acted temptingly in foreign exchange dealings today and stocks were inclined to rise on the advancing enthusiasm.

Notwithstanding sizeable purchases of gold abroad by New York banks and the supporting $2,000,000 equalization fund of the treasury the British pound dropped about 6 cents in terms of the United States unit and other leading European currencies were similarly heavy.

Grains and other commodities offered little aid to equities, but cotton was about steady. Bonds, paying longer maturities, to stocks, again moved ahead vigorously.

Some of the metal shares, including U. S. Smelting and Refining were in demand for advances of 1 to 2 points. A few specialties found new followings. Most of the alcohol group sagged 1 to 2. Merchandise issues were firm. Union Pacific lost a point and other rails were resistant. The utilities showed improving tendencies. Various oils also did better. The aircraft were in supply. The stocks ended and most of the so-called leaders held to a narrow groove. Profit taking in the first hour caused the ticker tape to lag behind floor transactions, but the pace slowed appreciably later.

Trade and industrial news of an optimistic character continued plentiful. Dun & Bradstreet found that retail business in many sections during the week had reached the largest totals for any January since 1929. Based on the strength of consumer demand, it was said, retailers have set their buying budgets for 15 to 40 per cent ahead of last year's.

Inquiries for locomotives from several of the larger rail systems were reported, as was the order of nearly 2,000 cars from one of the carriers.

An increase in carloadings of 1,136 for the week ended January 17, was not quite up to the seasonal trend. At the same time the total of 561,566 cars was $6,264 ahead of the like 1933 week.

KINGSTON LABOR UNITS TO HOLD P. D. R. DANCE

A 10-piece orchestra led by Zucca will entertain at the dance in honor of President Roosevelt, arranged by the Kingston labor organizations. The dance will be held Tuesday evening, February 6, at 8 o'clock, at Holy Cross parish house on Pine Grove avenue.

All proceeds from the sale of tickets to this dance will be contributed to the fund for the Warm Springs Foundation organized by President Roosevelt. The Musicians' Union, which is contributing the entertainment, designated Mr. Zucca to arrange a varied program. A committee appointed by the Kingston Trades and Labor Council, is making a special effort for a good representation of industrial workers.

According to reports received by the Trades and Labor Council, unions in over 200 cities have held banquets and dances in honor of the President.

The Pataukunk correspondent wishes to correct an item in last week's issue. She stated that the oyster dinner given by Accord farmers was held at Kingston. This was an error, since the dinner was held in Accord.

Mrs. Jennie Schoonmaker was in this vicinity soliciting for the turkey supper which will be held soon at the Methodist Church in Kerhonkson.

Mrs. Waegel has been ill with tonsillitis but is improved.

Mrs. Christian was a Kingston shopper on Monday.

LILLIAN SCHOONMAKER ADDIS, Mgr.

Cohen And Rand Will Be Tried Only On Assault Charges

Daniel H. Prior of Albany appeared before Supreme Court Judge John T. Loughran this afternoon at special term seeking an inspection of the grand jury minutes in the George and Peter Cohen and Moe Rand assault-robbery cases. This application was made so that he might move later for a dismissal of the indictments. He also moved for a change of place of trial from the county court where the indictments now are to the Supreme court in Ulster county, on the grounds that novel and grave questions of law were involved. Mr. Prior stated that this motion was made in no way as a reflection on the county court or the judge who presided but simply to have the matter determined by the superior tribunal.

Mr. Prior attacked the language of the robbery and grand larceny charges in indictment No. 2067. He stated that there was apparently no specific value before the grand jury as to the property taken since the language of the indictment stated that "certain personal property" had been taken and that the grand jury had no knowledge as to the value of this property. The grand jury he stated had apparently no knowledge of the nature of the property taken and consequently could not set a value.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray stated to the court that the language of the indictment perhaps was not definite and he stated that he was willing to consent to a dismissal of the robbery and grand larceny counts in indictment No. 2067, and elected to go to trial on three assault charges contained in the indictment. The last three counts of this indictment charge assault, second degree.

Mr. Murray said that apparently Mr. Prior did not attack the second indictment, No. 2063. This was admitted.

It was then stipulated that the robbery and grand larceny charges in indictment No. 2067 be dismissed and that the trial proceed on the assault charges. On that stipulation Mr. Prior withdrew his motions.

Prior pointed out that since the indictment did not name the property alleged to have been involved in the robbery and that apparently the property taken had been contraband slot machines of no value the charge of robbery and grand larceny could not be sustained. He held that slot machines according to law were contraband and must be destroyed by law. Slot machines differed in respect to seized liquor which under the law might be sold and therefore had a value while slot machines which must be destroyed consequently had no value. It was on that theory that he attacked the robbery and grand larceny charge could not be sustained under the language of the indictment.

Germs frozen for weeks in liquid helium have been found capable of propagating when thawed out.

PROTECT YOURSELF From "BOOTLEG" MERCHANDISE!

The Ads in the Freeman Safeguard Your Buying

INFERIOR "depression" merchandise is still flooding the country on the look-out for "suckers" who will buy. These goods are below a wholesome standard of quality—not worth the money or anywhere near it! Whether you order a quart of ice cream for Junior's birthday party or a brace of shirts for friend husband you cannot afford to take chances with this sub-standard merchandise.

How can you avoid being bilked on inferior goods—endangered by food-stuffs prepared in unsanitary surroundings—cheated on commodities made by children or sweated labor? There are two safe ways!

First, patronize reputable merchants. Certainly, avoid buying from the door-to-door peddler you know nothing about!

Second, read and shop regularly through the ads in The Freeman. Dealers who sell goods of sound quality do not hesitate to advertise them in the newspaper where you can read, study and compare their qualifications and prices. An advertiser who must spend money to tell you about his goods seldom endangers his investment by falsehoods and misrepresentation. A consistent advertiser whose business reputation depends on your continued good will never does!

Freeman Ads Protect Your Pocketbook

When you read The Freeman ads you can compare any merchant's offering for quality, description and price with others in the paper. You're protecting yourself against POOR quality and unreasonable charges. The reputable advertising merchant knows this. He welcomes your comparison. He knows it will build up your sense of discrimination, teach you to appreciate his own worthwhile goods and save you from making future mistakes.

Freeman Ads Safeguard Your Time

You'll have more time for leisure if you let The Freeman ads plan each shopping trip for you. Before you leave home you'll know just which stores you're going to visit and what you're going to buy. No time wasted in walking around town comparing items and prices in a dozen different stores. You've done all that BEFOREHAND—in the pages of The Freeman! Shopping through the ads gives you extra hours for doing the things you LIKE to do!

Freeman Ads Assure Lasting Satisfaction

When you've made it a habit to buy from reputable merchants you know about—from advertisers who aren't afraid to let you compare their offerings side by side with others—THEN you'll find yourself getting longer life, more wear, and a fuller, lasting satisfaction from all your purchases. You'll know just where to find quality. You'll be a discriminating buyer. If all women bought as carefully, the makers of inferior "sucker-bait" goods would have to quit business.

And the NRA Does Its Part

When you shop the ads remember to look for the familiar little symbol that provides the best protection of all! Goods advertised "NRA" mean that no little children drudged weary hours in their making—no tired men and women slaved in a sweat-shop for a pitiful wage. "NRA" assures you that your purchase is made and sold by well-paid men and women who like their jobs well enough to bring you a carefully made, quality product!

Broddhead Humbles
Van Deusen in Finals
Of Table Tennis War

Palmer Broddhead, playing in unbeatable form, overwhelmed and humbled Herbert Van Deusen in the finals of the Sweeney-Schonger table tennis finals last night before a large gallery that watched Van Deusen try to bring his drive under control and fail as Broddhead speeded up his game each time his opponent tried to stage a rally.

Broddhead won 6-0, 6-1, 6-3 in a match that dopsters were certain would go the full five sets. Before the match both men were rated as equal and the contest appeared to be a battle from start to finish. Brodhead saw to it that the match was a walkaway. Never giving Van Deusen a chance to open up, he rushed through the first set without the loss of a game, won the next four games of the second set and let down long enough for Van Deusen to draw even at 4-4. After this momentary let-down, Broddhead forged ahead once more to run out the final two sets in quick order. It must be said for Van Deusen that he was woefully off his game, and credit must be given him for the valiant effort he made to keep the match even while all of his shots were travelling outside or into the net. Yet even at his best, he would have been no match for Brodhead, for Broddhead played a careful, heady game, devoid of errors, and he deserved to win in straight sets.

haber at Nick's, 100-32. It took the blages of billiard fans watched the

Some Animals Sleep in Summer

Some fish enclose themselves in cocoons of mud and slime at the bottom of the stream. Earthworms surround themselves with a secretion which hardens into this shell called a "cocoon" during certain seasons. "Summer sleep" is as common among many animals as in winter sleep among others.
This is called " aestivation," and is usually produced by lack of water or food.
It is very common in tropical regions.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The Little Napoleon of baseball, though gray-headed and in retirement, has by no means taken a boat ride to St. Helena or Elba.

In fact John Joseph McGraw's interest in the national game is scarcely less keen during the 40-odd years he strode the field trucilently with such clubs as the old Baltimore Orioles or directed the strategy of the New York Giants.

He has watched the progress of events intently since he turned over the management of the Giants to his one-time protégé, Memphis Will Terry. He was as delighted as anyone associated with the club by the sensational exploits of the team last year. Mentally he played every game of the world series from start to finish.

While he thinks the idea of a standard ball for the two big leagues is all right in itself, McGraw told a gathering of baseball folks recently that he thought it was a mistake to adopt the livelier American League ball, instead of the less deadly National League article.

"The National League clubs last season played better baseball," commented McGraw. "It was more nearly like the old days than anything
I have seen in 15 years. The spectators evidently liked it, too."

Game Needs Fight

Touching upon one of his favorite themes McGraw suggested the advantage of more manifestations of spirit on the ball field by the contending clubs, as one means of helping revive public interest.

"I know steps have been taken to eliminate fraternizing by the players of rival clubs," he remarked, "but I think it would be a good thing for the game if there was more of the type of rivalry that existed, for instance, between the old Giants and Chicago Cubs."

"We don't want rowdism, of course, on or off the field. But the authority of the umpires should be less pronounced and the players given a chance to let off steam now and then. The crowds like to feel that the clubs out there are fighting for all they can get." They like to see some evidence of it. A scrappy, aggressive club is always popular."

There Came Willie

Recalling the old days when he was with the Baltimore club and one of the best base-runners of his time, McGraw related this incident:
"I was on first base when Willie Keeler looped a single to short left.
I was on top of second base easily and knowing the outfielder had a bad arm, I suddenly lit up speed and darted for third. As I expected, the throw was wide and I slid home safely, but that isn't the point of the story. I was barely out of the way when Keeler came sliding across the plate, too!"

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

THE BEECH-NUT PICNIC
OVER in a certain part of the Green Forest grow silver-barked beeches, the trees that Peter Rabbit thinks are the most beautiful of all trees that in winter are bare of leaves. Already they were partly bare and the leaves which still clung to them were crisp and yellow. The beech trees, like Johnny Chuck, were about ready to go to sleep for the winter. You see, their summer's work was about finished. In fact, it was quite finished, for beneath them hiding among the crisp fallen leaves were ever and ever so many ripe, brown, three-sided little nuts, the Chatterer, the Red Squirrel, and his big cousin, Happy Jack, the Gray Squirrel, started just as soon as it was light enough to see, but early as they were, they found Mrs. Grouse and family there before them. Hardly had they arrived when Sammy Jay appeared and, I am sorry to say, he and Chatterer at once began to call each other names. Then came Red-head, a cousin of Drummer, the Woodpecker, who is very fond of beech nuts. Big Tom, the Gobbler, and Mrs. Gobbler and their whole family of young Gobblers, now nearly as big as their parents, were the next to arrive, and Chatterer greeted them with a perfect storm of abuse, to which they didn't pay the least attention. Chatterer simply wasted his breath.

Presently there was a rustle of leaves, and who should appear but Lightfoot, the Deer, Uncle Billy and Mrs. Possum arrived a few minutes later, their sharp ears twinkling greedily. Whitefoot, the Wood Mouse, was there, though he took pains to keep out of sight. Of course, Peter Rabbit was there. Not that Peter was at all interested in those sweet, brown nuts. Peter doesn't eat nuts, you know. He was there just because he couldn't stay away. He wanted to see what was going on.

Last of all, shuffling along with funny grunts and whines of eagerness, came Buster Bear. Buster Bear is very fond of beech nuts, and he had been counting on these to help make him fat for the long winter sleep ahead of him.

"My, but this is going to be some picnic!" murmured Peter Rabbit.

Taxicab Drivers Idle In Ride Tax Revolt

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Several thousand taxicab drivers went on strike today as a result of dissatisfaction over disposition of the five-cent ride tax collected under a city law that subsequently was declared illegal.

The tax money, amounting to several hundred thousand dollars, is being held in escrow.

At Parmelee and Yellow garages it was acknowledged that there was trouble, but officials of both companies claimed they had a few cabs moving.

The tax was adopted by the Tammany administration last year and the initial charge on taxicab meters was jumped from 15 cents to 20 cents. Later the Supreme court ruled that the tax was illegal.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia proposed that the tax money be turned to the drivers, and promised if that was done the city would abandon its intention to appeal the Supreme Court ruling. No decision has been reached on this proposal.

Officials of the Keystone Transportation Company, operators of 550 cabs from five Manhattan garages, acknowledged that they had no cabs on the streets.
